

Abstract of the Disclosure

A laminated sheet for the display of information includes a print provided on a print layer which is either a rubber layer or is a laminate consisting of PVC and a plastics/adhesive layer. A net layer of polyester is laminated below the print layer, which ensures that the sheet is strong and flexible. Laminates of a glue and a film may be arranged below the polyester layer. A plastics/adhesive layer and a PVC layer may be laminated between the polyester layer and the glue.
